Who we are

The Association Friends of the School of Glass (AEV) is a non-profit NGO, promoted by professional and committed people, whose mission is to defend access to education for young people, as this is the way to improve the quality of life and achieve a real and sustainable development in their communities.

The AEV ensures the proper functioning of the School of Glass and supports both the educational program and the development of the students. In addition, we promote projects to help out with communities development.

We serve young people of 10 rural communities, without access to secondary education

Our commitment with SDG

Education provides the tools for a real and sustainable development in the communities.

We give food scholarships and train families in nutrition

We focus our educational efforts on labor insertion and entrepreneurship.

A quality education that eliminates the gap between those who do have opportunities and those who do not, at the level of labor access, and who promotes peace.
